HONEYMOON IS INTERRUPTED

San Mateo Groom Forgets Cash and is obliged to walk Home.

Bride Advises Husband to take an Automobile should he lose the train.

A honeymoon was sadly interrupted at Belmont, by a bold bad conductor, a week ago Thursday, and the poor groom was compelled to walk back to San Mateo for the cash which he had left in his trousers pocket at home. The bride fared a little better, however, and after a cute little smile at the conductor she was allowed to go on to San Jose where she waited for her belated love.

The couple boarded the evening train at San Mateo and after brushing the rice from their clothes settled down in their seats hoping to avoid further notice. By the time the conductor had reached them they were so wrapped up in each other as not to notice his approach. The conductor hesitated a moment as though he hated to "butt in" and then politely touched the groom on the shoulder.

The groom reached in his pocket and then the deep crimson that spread over his face soon told the story. He arose to his feet and turned his pockets inside out but to his dismay they were empty. The conductor smiled and passed on, but the bride decided that they could go no further without money and upon her advice the groom left the train at Belmont and returned home on foot.

As the train pulled out the bride opened the window and called to her husband to be sure and take an automobile in case he should miss the next train. Their names could not be learned, but it is understood that both are prominently known about San Mateo and Burlingame.

Miss Lillian Nicholls at St. Paul's

Under the auspices of the Epworth League of St. Paul's another high-class entertainment is in store for the people of South City.

On Tuesday evening, February 12th, Miss Lillian Nicholls, dramatic reader and vocalist of San Jose, assisted by local musical talent, will furnish an entertainment, at the close of which the League will hold a brief reception and social half-hour to Miss Nicholls and the friends in attendance. As is attested by the various comments of persons well able to pass judgment, Miss Nicholls is an artist of rare ability, a person of charming personality, a Christian lady who is admirably endowed both physically and mentally to please and charm her audiences.

Tickets to this entertainment should be procured from the members of the Epworth League early, since the seating capacity of the chapel is quite limited.

The Honest Printer.

Various newspapers in the country have commented, mirthfully and otherwise, on the fact that the Ohio Penitentiary News has been forced to suspend publication because there are no printers in that institution to set the type and get out the paper. Very naturally the circumstance is considered creditable to the craft. There are more than twenty bankers in the Ohio penitentiary, with lawyers, doctors, brokers and other "highly respectable" citizens to spare, but not a single printer is numbered among the convicts, and the Lord only knows when there will be. Hurrah for the art preservative!—Portland (Me.) Advertiser.

The San Mateo Board of Trade has moved its headquarters into the office of the Justice of the Peace in that city.

"STUMP" IS LIKE A TUG ON A ROUGH SEA

Dan Highland Will Deliver Bread in the New Cart Regardless of Rough Riding.

"Stump" is the name of a new delivery cart upon which Peter Lind holds a patent and is now trying its usefulness on Dan Highland's quick delivery. Dan was laid up for repairs after the first day's ride and although he admitted that the cart rode like a tug in a rough sea he would not allow anyone to blame the vehicle, which he has been looking forward to for over a year.

Dan will use the new cart to deliver fresh bread for Lind's new bakery, which will be established in the new place during the coming week. The bakery will be under the management of Mr. and Mrs. Gotlieb Felton, refugees of the Armour Hotel bakery.

LINCOLN'S FRIEND PASSES AWAY

Harvey Lee Ross Closes a Long and Useful Life of Eighty-Nine Years in Oakland.

Harvey Lee Ross, father of Geo. C. and Dr. J. L. Ross of Redwood City, died in Oakland on the 27th ult. Mr. Ross was born in Seneca county, New York, October 10, 1817 and moved to Illinois in 1821. He remained in that State until about twenty years ago, when he came to California. In early days in Illinois he was an intimate friend of Abraham Lincoln, who at that time kept a country store and was postmaster at New Salem, and at the same time practiced law. Mr. Ross engaged Lincoln as his attorney in a land case, but when they arrived at the Court House with witnesses, found that the court had adjourned. The litigants went to the judge's home, where he was found building a corncrib.

Court was held and the case tried, the decision being in Mr. Ross' favor. After the trial all set to work and assisted the judge in finishing his corncrib. The first election in Fulton county, where Mr. Ross resided, was held at his father's house and only 35 votes were cast, where at present there are over five million voters. General Andrew Jackson was another of Mr. Ross' friends, and he always recalled with pleasure his entertainment at Jackson's house. He was also acquainted with the great circuit riding minister Peter Cartwright and has often listened to his sermons.

Besides Geo. C. and Dr. J. L. Ross another brother and two sisters survive him.

The ever popular Pete Kelly is still making good as a railroad detective and is doing splendid work all along the line. Among his latest catches was a man in Fresno who broke open a box car and made away with a lot of cigars. Kelly was seen upon the streets of San Mateo Thursday night and his appearance in that quiet burg led to the belief that there was "something doing." Pete, however, is not the kind to satisfy the curiosity of the multitude, and when his friends asked him his business there he politely showed them a card upon which was printed "That's my business."

The Grand Jury filed its report last week, which was lacking in anything sensational. The jury found no fault with anything and made only a few recommendations.

DEATH OF W. L. DAVIS OF THE DEMOCRAT

VETERAN NEWSPAPER MAN OF REDWOOD CITY FALLS DEAD FROM APOPLEXY.

Had Been Man of Varied Experience, Known Throughout Two States as Writer and Publisher.

W. L. Davis of Redwood City, well and favorably known throughout California and Nevada as a veteran newspaper man, died suddenly at his home at Redwood Monday. During the morning Mr. Davis was around town and apparently well and happy. About noon he returned to his home and at 1 o'clock was seized with a sudden attack of an apoplectic nature. Drs. Barret and Ross were called and responded immediately, but human aid was unavailing. Mr. Davis rallied only for a brief space of time from his first attack and then passed away. His daughter Grace was hurriedly summoned from Stanford University, where she is a student. When the end came Mr. Davis was surrounded by his grief-stricken family—his wife, his wife's sister from Reno, Nev., his two daughters, Grace and Irene, and his son William.

W. L. Davis will be remembered by his business associates and those who knew him most intimately as being the soul of honor. His life experience was most varied and thrilling. Under a quiet demeanor he was a man quick to extend the helping hand or to resent an injustice. He had traveled extensively. At an early age he was in the South and served as a confederate soldier under Lee. He was at the battle of Gettysburg, lying with his comrades in the trenches while the artillery of the opposing armies rained their terrific storm of shot and shell over their prostrate bodies. Later he became a Union prisoner. After the war he reached this coast and at one time was employed at Mare Island navy yard.

Mr. Davis tasted the extremes of comparative ease and want. And he passed through San Mateo county, as he himself related in pleasant way, and stopped at the Democrat office at Redwood. He did not have a dollar in his pocket and he used to smile in telling how the boys gave him a lift. Soon after that, however, his luck changed and he bought the Democrat from W. D. Crow, paying, it is said, about $5000 cash. Between these periods, however, Mr. Davis had been at Ely, Nev., the district now being exploited as a copper country. Later he sold the Democrat to J. V. Swift, the present owner. The funeral took place last Wednesday from the family residence at Redwood.

JILTED LOVER CAUSES TROUBLE

Miss Carlotta Warrington Says Jealous Man caused Her Arrest in Stockton.

Declaring that her jilted lover had been the cause of her arrest Miss Carlotta Warrington of San Mateo was returned to that city from Stockton last Wednesday, to answer to charges brought against her by a local merchant. While waiting for a train at the Bush-street station, San Francisco, Miss Warrington told her troubles freely to the newspaper reporters and blames James Stewart, a restaurant keeper, for all her troubles.

She says that she became engaged to Stewart several months ago at San Mateo, while working for him as cashier in his restaurant. Later she concluded to break with her prospective husband, who was 45 years of age, and announced her intention to Stewart, who refused to accept her offer to return the engagement ring.

She says that she then went to Stockton, where she has friends. But at San Mateo she had against her a bill with a clothing company, and when she left that place this was made the basis for complaint. In speaking of the trouble Miss Warrington said:

"Stewart was 45 years of age, and although I had been engaged to him, I finally concluded not to marry him on the score of his age. I went to Stockton, throwing my engagement ring into the bay. Stewart was jealous and finding that I owed Lubarsky money, secured my arrest. That is all there is to the matter."

POPULAR YOUNG LADY IS WED

Miss Eillen Swift Becomes Bride of J. McCormick in San Francisco.

Miss Eillen Swift, daughter of J. W. Swift of the Redwood Democrat, was married to James J. McCormick last Sunday afternoon at the old historic Mission Dolores church, San Francisco. Only a few of the immediate relatives were present at the ceremony which was followed by a short bridal tour.

The nuptials mark the culmination of a little romance having its origin in Redwood where the groom has resided for the past few years. The bride is well and favorably known about Redwood City where she was born and reared. She is a graduate of the Notre Dame Academy of Redwood City and has many friends among the younger people.

The groom is a student of promising ability, about to graduate from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, San Francisco.

After their honeymoon the couple will return to San Francisco where they will reside until the groom completes his studies at the medical college.

Change in Prices

A new schedule for haircutting went into effect yesterday and from now on patrons will have to pay 35 cents instead of 25 cents as heretofore. The other prices will remain the same. The hours also have been changed and in future the shops will be kept open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. except Wednesday and Saturday when they will close at 10:30 p. m. and Sundays at noon.

Miss Lucille Eaves will deliver a lecture on "Social Training in Public Schools" before the members of the Woman's Club in Froebel Hall, San Mateo, February 6th. The subject is looked upon as an interesting one and a large attendance is expected. Each member of the club is requested to bring a friend.

SUPERVISORS MEET IN REDWOOD CITY

PLANS ARE CONSIDERED FOR NEW COURT HOUSE, BUT ACCEPTANCE POSTPONED.

Board Passes Resolution of Respect for the Late William B. Gilbert, Who Died Last Week.

The Board of Supervisors held a special meeting in Redwood City last Monday to consider the plans presented for the new Court House. After a careful inspection of the specifications and an explanation of each by the respective architects the board ordered that a copy of the plans be sent to each Supervisor to be considered at his leisure time. The matter will again be taken up at the next regular meeting of the board, at which time the selection may be made.

Before adjourning the board passed the following resolution out of respect to the memory of William B. Gilbert, who died at Redwood City last week: WHEREAS, An all seeing Providence has seen fit in His infinite wisdom to call to an eternal rest a public officer of this county, our late County Surveyor, William B. Gilbert, and

Whereas, This Board has for many years been guided by the engineering skill and ability of Mr. Gilbert in the construction of many concrete bridges and other public utilities which are now a lasting monument to his skill, industry and intelligence; now therefore be it

Resolved, By the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, in regular session assembled, that as public officers of this county we do deeply deplore his loss both to ourselves as individuals and as friends of the deceased, and also in the loss that the people of this county have sustained in the death of such a competent public official and servant, and that this board when adjourned do adjourn as a mark of respect to our fellow official and friend, the late County Surveyor, W. B. Gilbert; and be it further

Resolved, That the clerk of this board be instructed to transcribe upon the official records of this board this resolution.

Work on the Bay Shore Railroad is progressing notwithstanding the hindrances of bad weather. Our citizens are patiently waiting, as at the present time it is impossible to go to the city and do any business without losing a whole day. The car service would make the hair stand on the worst bald head in the State.

Charles E. Dugan, owner of the St. Charles Hotel, has decided to add forty rooms to the building and entirely remodel it. The new proprietor, B. Sheehan, Jr., finds it imperative to have more room and an up-to-date place. The new place will be fitted up with modern conveniences.—Redwood City Democrat.

ROBBERS CONFESS THEIR GUILT

Los Angeles Police Given Information Which Leads to Capture.

Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—According to the police, one of three young men held in the City Prison on the charge of having perpetrated the recent bank robberies in Southern California, has confessed. In addition, it asserted the one who confessed has revealed the hiding place of some of their loot, as well as the place where their burglar tools and nitro glycerine are concealed.

The young men have given their names as Thomas Griffith, Thomas Martin and Paul Carl von Hohenenthal. It is the latter who is alleged to have given the confession to the police. Von Hohenenthal and Griffith were captured by a policeman at Sixteenth and Georgia streets last Monday. Martin escaped at the time, carrying with him it is understood, the burglar tools and the nitro glycerine, which he afterwards buried.

Later he was arrested at the place where the three roomed, the location of which was revealed by the confession of Hohenenthal. Some of the burglaries which are credited to the trio are: The looting of the safe of the Newport State Bank at Newport Beach, when $1,200 was taken; robbery of the Highland Park substation postoffice of $300, of Glendale postoffice, when $1,000 was taken, of Duarte postoffice, when $300 was taken. All of these robberies occurred during January.

Hunts Pheasants But Kills Wife.

London, Feb. 2.—Lady Dorothy Cuthbert met death at the hands of her husband during a pheasant shoot at Beaufront Castle, Northumberland, yesterday. The victim was only two yards from her husband, Captain James Harold Cuthbert, when his gun was accidentally discharged, the charge entering her head. She fell dead.

Beaten By Masked Men for Cruelty.

New York, Feb. 2.—Mrs. Russell Sage has given $1,000,000 to the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Announcement of the gift was made at a meeting of the institute alumni association last night.

King Edward to Visit French Capital.

London, Feb. 2.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra are going to spend a week in Paris before the opening of Parliament. They start at once. The general impression is that the interview which would undoubtedly occur between the King and President Fallieres and the Foreign and other French Ministers will assist in the extension of the Anglo-French understanding which some observers believe will ultimately result in an Anglo-French military convention.

One More Body Taken From Mine.

Charleston, W. Va., Feb. 2.—Twenty-four bodies, all mangled beyond recognition, have been taken from the Stuart mine, and it is expected that it will be possible to get most of the other fifty bodies which are in the mine out today.

About thirty bodies is the estimate of the number at the bottom of the shaft. The officials believe the total dead in the mine will be between 75 and 80.

President Values His Peace Prize.

Christiana, Norway, Feb. 2.—In a letter to Foreign Minister Loveland, who is president of the Noble Commission, President Roosevelt, who was awarded the peace prize December 10 last, writes that he will value the diploma and medal so long as he lives and at his death they will be as highly prized by his children.

THE HOUSE OF LORDS.

What This Great British Institution Represents.

At first sight there is not much likeness between the comfortable country gentlemen, retired lawyers, blase men of fashion and liberal subscribers to party funds, who now drop into rather than frequent their magnificent hall, and "the mail covered barons, who proudly to battle led their vassals from Europe to Palestine's plain" in the days of the Henrys and Edwards, but in one point the house has always maintained its character through centuries—it is an aristocracy of birth, but it is still more emphatically one of wealth. The law of entail and primogeniture has kept the landed estates together as far as the law can. Many have passed by heiresses to new names or been sold by spendthrift lords, many holders of ancient titles have lost the wealth that gilded their ancestors' coronets, but new peers are almost always rich, and a title is still an attraction to an heiress. We sometimes hear that the house of lords represents nothing. This is false. It represents property. Tennyson's new Lincolnshire farmer, whose horse's hoofs trotted "propetty, propetty, propetty," is the type of a vast number of Englishmen. Such men are not only content, but proud, to be represented by the house of lords. They know that as long as the lords have their say "propetty" will have a staunch body of organized champions.—William Everett in Atlantic.

NATURAL KITCHENS.

Places Where Cooking Is Done In Boiling Springs.

There are one or two countries—Iceland, for example—where washday is not dreaded, because nature provides the hot water at one's very door in the shape of steaming springs of spouting geysers. But there is only one country where the native women do practically all their cooking by unaided nature, and that is the North island of New Zealand. Here is a wonderland of a thousand square miles so volcanic that a fire may be lighted by inserting a few sticks in the earth, and wherever one makes a hole he speedily has a pool of boiling water, into which a pudding may be lowered incased in a cloth and cooked expeditiously.

Frequently in perfectly cold streams a boiling hot current may be seen and felt running along the edge of the river, and here the Maori women do their own and the white man's washing. Naturally the volcanic region of New Zealand is a dangerous country to wander in without a guide, and many tourists have lost their lives as the result of such carelessness. Maori servants boil coffee and eggs in this way.—New York Tribune.

A Vile Performance.

On the occasion of his brother's benefit Edwin Booth was standing behind the scenes when a character actor who had been giving imitations of noted actors was about to respond to an encore.

"Whom do you imitate next?" inquired Booth.

"Well," was the reply, "I was going to represent you in Hamlet's soliloquy, but if you look on I'm afraid I shall make a mess of it."

"Suppose I imitate myself?" remarked the tragedian, and, hastily putting on the other actor's wig and buttoning up his coat, he went on and delivered the well known lines.

Next morning the newspapers stated that the imitations ruined the performance, "the personation of Edwin Booth being simply vile enough to make that actor shudder had he seen it."—Toledo Blade.

Pope's Skull.

The skull of Alexander Pope, the poet and satirist, is in the private collection of a phrenologist. During some alterations in the churchyard where Pope was buried it was necessary to move his coffin, which was opened at the time to ascertain the state of his remains. By bribing the sexton of the church possession of the poet's skull was obtained for the night, and in the morning a different skull was returned instead. The cost of the skull, including the bribe, was £50.

His Stubbornness.

"Haven't you and your friend got through that argument yet?" asked a parent of his youngest son.

"It isn't any argument," answered the boy. "I am merely telling Jimmie the facts in the case, and he is so beastly stubborn that he won't understand."—Chums.

GOVERNOR OF CARACAS SHOT

THE FRIENDS OF VENEZUELA'S FIRST VICE PRESIDENT COMMIT THE CRIME.

Invite General Matay Ilas to Drink With Them in a Cafe and Then Suddenly Open Fire On Him.

Caracas, Feb. 2.—General Luis Matay Ilas, the Governor of Caracas, was assassinated last night by a crowd of intoxicated partisans of Vicente Gomez, the first Vice-President of the republic.

Among the assassins was Eusebio Gomez, a companion of the Vice-President. They spent the evening riotously, shooting pistols, drinking and crying "Long Live Gomez."

General Matay Ilas drove to the cafe where the men were for the purpose of remonstrating with them. They invited the Governor into the cafe to drink with them. He continued his remonstrances, when the crowd suddenly opened fire on him.

The murderers were captured later and are now under arrest.

Resolution Is Laid on the Table.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The subcommittee of the military committee, by a strict party vote, laid on the table the resolution of Representative Sims, of Tennessee, commending the President for his action in discharging the colored soldiers engaged in "shooting up" the town of Brownsville.

The Democrats voted solidly against the motion.

Mr. Sims will now bring the resolution before the House on a motion to discharge the military committee from further consideration, and have the resolution considered by the House, provided the Speaker will recognize him for that purpose.

Dunkards Buy Land in Siskiyou.

Redding, Cal., Feb. 2.—Stanford University, the Pacific Improvement Company and Southern Pacific interests yesterday transferred 33,332 acres of land in Siskiyou county, near Mount Hebron, to William McBoel in the interests of the Dunkards, who have begun to colonize in the region. The deed that was recorded in Yreka calls for $332,320 in cash, making it one of the biggest transactions in land ever recorded in the county.

Fifty Dunkards have already settled near Mount Hebron, and hundreds more are coming from the East this summer.

The Memphis Levee Breaks.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 2.—Many people are moving from their homes in the northern part of this city as a result of a break in the protection levee, built by the city of Memphis one year ago.

The levee gave way yesterday and the district north of Poplar boulevard and west of Fourth street is now under two feet of water. If the river reaches a stage of forty-one feet, which seems probable, a large area near the business portion of the city will feel the effects of the flood.

A steady rain was recorded in the vicinity of Memphis last night. The river this morning marks 39.8 feet.

To Change Special Stamp Law.

Washington, Feb. 2.—A bill was favorably reported by the House Committee on postoffices and post roads yesterday, providing that ten cents worth of postage stamps of any denomination may be used instead of a special delivery stamp, providing the words "Special Delivery" be written upon the letter.

Letter Carriers' Pay Increased.

Washington, Feb. 2.—The Senate yesterday passed a bill increasing the salaries of letter carriers in free-delivery offices. The bill fixes the first year's salaries at $600, with an annual increase of $100 until the maximum has been reached.

FRENCH CABINET CRISIS

BRIAND AND PREMIER DO NOT AGREE ON THE CHURCH QUESTION.

Paris, Feb. 2.—The existence of the Cabinet is believed to be in danger as a result of the clash in the Chamber of Deputies last night between Premier Clemenceau and Minister of Education Briand. While the incident was superficially smoothed over, it is learned that it was the result of a radical divergence of views regarding the proposition of the French Bishops.

Briand, like his chief, regards the proposition as being unacceptable in its present form, but the former believes that the door of conciliation should not be closed.

Clemenceau, however, will brook no opposition, and at the Cabinet meeting yesterday apparently carried his point. Briand and Finance Minister Caillaux being authorized to determine to whom the gifts and legacies in possession of the church shall ultimately go, in default of the cultural associations under the law to take over the church property. Nevertheless, Briand succeeded in having issuance of the circular to the prefects postponed until after the next meeting of the Cabinet.

Announcement at any moment of the retirement of Briand from the Cabinet would not cause surprise and if he goes the whole Ministry will almost inevitably follow.

The first definite movement in the carrying out of the declaration made by the Bishops is recorded from the diocese of Grenoble, where the priests of fourteen communes yesterday presented to the Mayor of the communes the draft of a lease for the churches, couched in the terms set forth in the Bishop's declaration. Ten Mayors at once signed the draft, while four deferred signing until the receipt of instructions. It now remains to be seen whether the prefect will confirm the action of the Mayors who signed.

Ends Her Life as She Kneels.

Reno, Nev., Feb. 2.—Dressing in somber black and placing her Bible on a chair by her side, Miss Jerry Bray, an elderly lady of this city, knelt by the foot of her bed in her home and placing a revolver against her breast, sent a bullet through her heart. She was discovered in this position by her neighbors, who had missed her for several days and entered her home. That she had prepared for and had thought long of taking her own life was evident from the condition of her home and from her own appearance.

Monks at War in Bethlehem.

Rome, Feb. 2.—The Jerusalem correspondent of the Corriere d'Italia says in a dispatch that the sacred grotto at Bethlehem has been the scene of a conflict between Franciscan, Armenian and Greek monks, in which two of the first mentioned were wounded. The local authorities and the French and Italian consuls are investigating.

Gives Credentials of Guggenheim.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Senator Patterson of Colorado yesterday presented the credentials of Simon Guggenheim, his successor in the Senate. Mr. Guggenheim was present and was introduced to many Senators.

Daily Duties.

The best part of one's life is the performance of one's daily duties. All higher motives, ideas, conceptions and sentiments in a man's life are of little value if they do not strengthen him for the better discharge of the duties which devolve upon him in the ordinary affairs of life.

Woman Is Accused of Killing Babies.

Des Moines, Ia., Feb. 2.—Mrs. Fred West, proprietor of a baby farm, was arrested yesterday on a charge of murder in the first degree, it being alleged that she put an infant to death by means of laudanum, used because of its blindness. Affidavits were filed with the local magistrate in which it is charged that bodies of a number of infants born at Mrs. West's home were burned in the furnace. Mrs. West was placed in the County Jail. She will be given a preliminary examination today.

THE THAW JURY NOW COMPLETE

TALESMAN TELLS HOW HE WAS QUESTIONED WHILE ON HIS WAY TO COURTROOM.

Attorney Delmas Again in Court—Mother of the Prisoner Unable to Appear.

New York, Feb. 2.—The Thaw jury is now complete, the twelfth man having been chosen just before adjournment of court yesterday afternoon. Bernard Gerstman was the talesman who finally answered all of the requirements. He is the New York representative of a Philadelphia woolen house, 35 years of age and married.

Harry K. Thaw, through his chief counsel, Clifford W. Harbridge, made the following statement last night.

"I expect to go free. I am perfectly satisfied with the jury selected. I believe that I shall receive a fair trial and know that I shall be acquitted."

"I shall certainly take the witness stand in my own defense."

"I have absolute belief that I shall be acquitted, and that it will be proven beyond a doubt that I was justified."

"I will gladly place my fate in the hands of this jury. I fear neither the death chair nor the madhouse, for I know that I shall go free."

"I am in perfect health and shall undergo my ordeal without thought of breakdown, mental or physical."

New York, Feb. 2.—A sensation was caused in the Thaw trial yesterday when a talesman under examination declared he had been spoken to in a general way about the case in coming into court.

"Roger O'Mara, stand up," commanded Assistant District Attorney Garvin. The Pittsburg detective appeared for the first time in the case.

"Did you speak to that man?" inquired Mr. Garvin of the talesman.

"No," he replied.

Thaw's attorneys protested against the action.

New York, Feb. 2.—There was more or less of an atmosphere of uncertainty in the courtroom yesterday as the hour for resuming the Thaw trial approached. The reports which had held over to the effect that there might be further weeding of the jury were again in circulation, as the eleven men on the trial panel filed in to take their places in the jury box.

The courtroom was crowded with talesmen, the fourth panel of 100 having reported, and sixty remaining of the panel which reported yesterday. Some of the talesmen found their way into the seats reserved for the Thaw family, but they were routed out when Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and May MacKenzie arrived.

Mrs. William Thaw, mother of Harry, was absent, because of the inclement weather.

Thaw's array of counsel was complete, Mr. Delmas appearing yesterday afternoon for the first time after an illness of several days.

The artists having been banished from the courtroom, the Countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. Carnegie removed their veils soon after they took their seats. Mrs. Thaw, however, has not once lifted her veil.

The jury now being complete, an adjournment was taken until Monday, when the prosecution will open the case with a mere statement of the facts, after which witnesses will be called and pined with questions. The prosecution does not expect to consume much time in presenting its side of the question, but the defense will have an array of witnesses which will take considerable time to examine.

AN EXPENSIVE BLAZE

BIG BLAZE DESTROYS GRAND OPERA HOUSE AND PROPERTY VALUED AT $1,000,000.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 2.—Eight buildings in the center of the business district of this city were either destroyed or badly damaged by a fire yesterday involving a loss estimated at $1,000,000. The Grand Opera House block, containing five stores, was destroyed, and nothing remains standing but the walls. The building on the opposite side of the store occupied by three stores and a pool room was also flooded.

The fire started from an explosion in Pyness' store in the Opera House block. Within an hour it had left the playhouse and had leaped across the street to the Columbia Hotel and College block. The Opera House was owned by a Harrisburg syndicate.

The wardrobe and scenery of the Champlin Stock Company, which was playing at the Opera House this week, was destroyed, the loss being $25,000.

While thick clouds of smoke were issuing from the Opera House the firemen saw a figure at one of the windows. Then came a crash, and what looked like a nude man crawled out on the sill. He called for a ladder. The ladder was raised, but only to within a few feet of the window. A small ladder was hoisted by men upon the big ladder. The man upon the windowsill stopped screaming. He appeared about to jump, but the firemen yelled "Don't jump; hold on." When the small ladder had reached him he began to crawl down.

Edward Holberg, a fireman, went up and got the man in his arms. Then the rescued man fainted. He was carried to a hospital, where it was found he was not badly hurt. He belongs to the stock company and had been sleeping in one of the dressing rooms when the fire started.

COTTON PRICES TO BE PROBED.

Congress Will Investigate Exchanges Dealing in Futures.

Washington, Feb. 2.—By unanimous vote the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce decided yesterday to make a favorable report for an investigation of the cotton exchanges of the country. The report is an amended form of the Livingston and Burleson resolutions, and extends the investigation to all cotton exchanges dealing in futures.

Representative Lovering, who will report the bill for the committee, said yesterday that the New York and New Orleans exchanges are the two principal ones dealing in futures, but that Memphis and St. Louis exchanges also have some dealings of that sort. The resolution, as it will be reported, follows:

"Resolved, That the Secretary of Commerce and Labor, through the Bureau of Corporations, be and is hereby requested to investigate the causes of the fluctuations in the price of cotton and the difference between the market price of the various classes of cotton; and said investigation shall be conducted with the particular object, whether or not said fluctuations in prices have resulted in whole or in part from the character of contract and deliveries thereon made upon the cotton exchanges dealing in futures, or are the result of any combinations or conspiracies which interfere or hinder commerce among the several States and Territories or with foreign countries."

Offers His Blood to Save Girl's Life.

New York, Feb. 2.—Miss Helen B. Platt, daughter of Frank H. Platt and granddaughter of United States Senator Thomas C. Platt, is very ill with typhoid fever at the home of her father in this city. The Herald, which makes the announcement, says that at a consultation of physicians it was decided to arrest the disease if possible by the transfusion of blood from healthy people. A senior at Yale, a close friend of Livingstone Platt, brother of Miss Platt, has offered to furnish the blood needed. Miss Platt is about 18 years old. The transfusion of blood is a comparatively new method of dealing with typhoid fever. The operation, it is understood, will be performed at once.

EITHER PEACE OR WAR AT ONCE

JAPANESE SCHOOL QUESTION BECOMES SERIOUS FOR OUR STATESMEN.

Mayor Schmitz and the San Francisco Board of Education Will Consult With the President.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 2.—This city has a genuine sensation today in the shape of a telegram from Secretary of War Taft stating that peace or war with Japan depends upon the action of the Board of Education of this city. The telegram was received by a prominent citizen of this city and was marked "private." It is stated that the substance of the telegram has been submitted to the members of the Board of Education here, and they have been implored to take immediate action to meet the demands of the President and at the same time satisfy the claims of the Japanese Government. The situation here is most acute. The constant rumors of war with Japan, the attitude of the Japanese officials here and in Washington has intensified the situation, until now matters are badly mixed. For the first time the people of San Francisco are getting excited, for it has been intimated to them that Japan will not accept any other course except the one demanded by her of social equality—that is, that the Japanese children be allowed to attend the public schools of San Francisco on an equal footing with the white American children. In other words, the Japanese Government refuses to accept the ultimatum of the Board of Education of this city that it will not permit the Japanese children to attend the schools for white children, but that it will provide in the future, as it has done in the past, a school completely fitted and equipped with competent teachers, known as the Oriental school. There is now no question but what Secretary Taft and President Roosevelt are driven to extremes. The situation was never more acute than it is today. While heretofore it was thought that the rumors of war were simply the ravings from the yellow press reporters, it has now come to pass that the situation is so serious that the statesmen of America have about all they can handle to straighten out the delicate question that Japan is standing pat and will not retreat one inch in her demands as evidenced by the flood of telegrams that have been received in this city during the past twenty-four hours. It is now up to the San Francisco Board of Education to give an immediate answer to the President's demand.

To Visit President Roosevelt.

San Francisco, Cal., Feb. 2.—The members of the local Board of Education will leave in a body for Washington on Sunday morning, where they will discuss the Japanese situation with the Administration.

Mayor Schmitz is to leave with them. He says he has a telegram from President Roosevelt, asking him to go with the board.

Japs Meet in Los Angeles.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 2.—Members of all the Japanese associations of America are in Los Angeles at present engaged in obtaining the support of the local Japanese to a protest to be filed by all of the twenty-three chapters of the general organization to the bill now pending before the Legislature of California to prohibit all who are not citizens of this country from buying or leasing land.

Secret meetings are being held by the Japanese in a hall at First and Main streets, and it is said that other subjects having to do with the welfare of the Japanese in America are being considered. Gourka Ikeda, a Columbia University graduate, who is secretary of the association, is reticent in discussing the proceedings of the meetings.

All are staying at high-class hotels and appear to have ample funds for their work.

SATURDAY.....FEBRUARY 2, 1907

THE question of incorporation remains in abeyance. The question is a big one. Incorporation has its advantages and they are not slight, but it has also its burdens and these are not light. Street improvement costs money. Thus far the improvements have been made by the Land and Improvement Company. Such improvements have been of a temporary character, save and except a water main on Grand avenue and a main sewer on the same street. The real work of street improvement remains to be done, and when the town incorporates the incorporation will have to shoulder the whole matter of street improvements.

The grading and paving of the streets in the business district will naturally come first. If done in a permanent and thorough way such improvement means a good sized tax on every foot of land fronting the street or streets so improved. Then there is the sewer system; which is really a much larger problem than the grading and paving proposition. First there must be a main sewer into which all lateral sewers must drain. This main sewer must afford drainage to the entire town and townsite. It must also have a clear outlet reaching out far enough into the bay that all sewage will be carried out and distributed into the bay.

Such a proposition to drain 2000 to 3000 acres is a gigantic scheme and will cost a big pot of money. So far as the salaries of officials of the incorporation are concerned, that is a mere bagatelle. The licenses would more than pay such salaries, but the improvements are another and entirely different matter, and the magnitude of the latter gives pause to the incorporation proposition and puts the taxpayer to thinking and counting the cost of the proposed scheme of incorporation.

We do not say that the game is not worth the candle. It may be that incorporation may be advisable and for the best interests of this town, notwithstanding the cost, but it is the duty of the home newspaper to present all the facts that our citizens may act advisedly.

For some time past the gossips of the press have been busy with a county division scheme. It has been given out as a political program, to enable certain interests to hold and keep control of State politics. On the other hand, it is announced that it is a scheme whereby the big fish are to swallow the little ones.

The latter is the more probable theory. As a part of politico-economic plan is a proposition to mutilate San Mateo county by slicing a chunk from the north end of the county and annexing the same to the City and County of San Francisco.

San Mateo county is in a very satisfactory condition. There is but one county in the State with a lower tax rate. There are no scandals, no charges of graft in county government matters. The county is increasing in wealth and population by great strides. The building of the Dumbarton bridge and the completion of the Bay Shore cutoff are in sight and will materialize within a few months. These two great enterprises, when completed, will revolutionize the traffic and travel situation between San Francisco and the outside world and add immensely to the present active development in this county.

Just now new and large industries are seeking locations about the Bay of San Francisco. In this town two large factories have been recently located. Others are investigating and are on the eve of settling here. As to San Francisco, the city has only begun to rebuild and rise from the ruins wrought by earthquake and fire. Immense sums of money must be raised to restore the streets, buildings and other municipal improvements. The rehabilitation of San Francisco means largely increased municipal taxation.

Then, again, the local government of San Francisco stands before the world discredited.

The annexation of a portion of San Mateo county to the City and County of San Francisco means a new burden of taxation; a risk of rotten and inefficient municipal government.

The time may come in the growth and development of San Francisco and of this portion of San Mateo county when annexation will benefit both. It is a big question and like all big questions should be carefully and thoroughly thrashed out before decision. Annexation at the present would be a bad move and might paralyze the new industries established or seeking location in this county. Radical changes should never be made in haste.

The Redwood Association of San Francisco, has issued a collection of views calling attention to the curious fact that the great fire of last April was in many instances stopped just opposite a row of redwood houses. The conclusion drawn in the booklet is that redwood being less resinous than other lumber should be considered a fire resisting material.

Ten Good Questions.

- 1—Do you wear glasses?
Then the lenses should be ground to suit your eyes.
- 2—Do your glasses set straight?
This is an important point to be noticed.
- 3—Do your glasses set too low?
This is an annoying error in fitting especially with bifocals.
- 4—Do your glasses fall off or bind too tight?
Then they should be adjusted so they won't.
- 5—Do you have nervous headaches; pain back of the eyes; over the eyes; in the eyeballs or in the back of the head?
Then you should suspect a defect in the eyes.
- 6—Do your eyes water and sting after reading at night?
They should not. If they do, you should find out the difficulty.
- 7—Do you have an intolerance for bright light?
A strong eye will readily adjust itself to light conditions.
- 8—Have you ever had your eyes examined?
There is no excuse for your answering, No!
- 9—Can you read the medium letters in my advertisement in this paper at 15 feet?
- 10—Can you read the fine print in this paper from 5 feet to 5 inches?

Just call around at the Pharmacy and let me give you personal advice, examine your eyes, adjust your glasses, if you are already wearing them, and see if the proper lenses are properly placed before your eyes. Such work I do FREE OF CHARGE. Why not call on A. E. GRAHAM, OPTICIAN.

OLEO SEIZED BY OFFICERS

More Than 1000 Pounds of Product
Confiscated in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Feb. 2.—The seizure of large quantities of oleomargarine was begun by internal revenue officers yesterday and continued today. More than 1000 pounds of the product has been confiscated.

Delivery wagons of dealers are being stopped in all parts of the city, and when packages of "oleo" are found, the driver is asked to produce orders showing that the customer has distinctly ordered "oleo." If such orders are not shown, the "oleo" is seized.

The internal revenue commissioner has ruled that only when the contents of a tax paid package have been bargained for and sold in advance can small packages be removed for delivery without a violation of the law.

DISASTROUS LANDSLIDE

PASSENGER TRAIN WRECKED
BY LANDSLIDE IN OREGON
CAUSED BY RAINS.

Redding, Cal., Feb. 2.—A big landslide a mile and a half north of Smithson yesterday caused the wreck of northbound passenger train No. 16. An immense body of debris covered the track for a hundred feet near a curve. Engineer Potter could not see the obstacle and the engines plunged into it, carrying the mail and baggage cars until the boulders on the track stopped the train.

Both engines were disabled and the train was stalled for six hours. Extra engines and crews were sent from Dunsmuir. A slide in Cow Creek canyon, Oregon, caused twelve hours' delay to all southbound trains. Heavy rains continue throughout the north.

The Sacramento river is rising rapidly and is higher than for several years. The snow is almost gone at Sisson and Dunsmuir and points north of there.

ENDS LIFE LIKE HIS BROTHER.

Brother of Philadelphia Defaulting
Banker Takes His Own Life.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 2.—Edward P. Hipple, a brother of the late Frank A. Hipple, who ended his life last summer after wrecking the Real Estate Trust Company of this city, of which he was president, committed suicide yesterday at his home.

His wife heard an unusual noise and sent her son upstairs to investigate. He found the father in his bedroom with a bullet wound in his head. He was hurried to a hospital, but died on the way.

Mr. Hipple was about 70 years of age and had been in the real estate business. The police say they have not learned the cause for the suicide, but it is believed he brooded over the tragic ending of his brother's life.

Masked Men Hold Up Street Car.

Los Angeles, Feb. 2.—Two masked men last night held up a street car on the Santa Fe avenue line at Santa Fe avenue and Joy streets, and, presenting pistols to the heads of the motorman, conductor and the single passenger, compelled them to give up their cash and valuables. J. Bradford, the only passenger on the car, was relieved of a small amount of money.

Immigration Cause of Race Suicide.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Professor L. C. He said American stock had been lowered many notches and declared the present situation is alarming.

DIED A BEGGAR.

The Pathetic Career of John Stow,
the English Antiquary.

John Stow, the celebrated English antiquary, was a remarkable man. He was born of poor parents about 1525 and brought up to the tailor's trade. For forty years his life was passed among needles and thread, but in the few leisure hours which his trade allowed him he had always been a fond reader of legends, chronicles, histories and all that told of the times that were past. By such reading he grew to be so attached to old memoirs that when about forty years of age he threw down his needle, devoted himself to collecting them and followed his new profession with the faith and enthusiasm of an apostle. Short of means, he made long journeys afoot to hunt over and ransack colleges and monasteries, and, no matter how worn and torn might be the rags of old papers which he found, he kept all, reviewing, connecting, copying, comparing, annotating, with truly wonderful ability and good sense. Arrived at fourscore years and no longer capable of earning a livelihood, he applied to the king, and James I., consenting to his petition, granted to the man who had saved treasures of memoirs for English history the favor of wearing a beggar's garb and asking alms at church doors. In this abject state, forgotten and despised, he died two years later.

From the Bountiful East.

A small proportion of the flora is indigenous. The majority came from the east, like all the great ideas on which our culture is founded, and were developed and improved on this classic soil. Italy received the lemon and the orange from the Semites, who in their turn had obtained them from India. The olive, the fig, the vine and the palm were grown by the Semites long before their cultivation penetrated to the west. The laurel and myrtle, indeed, are indigenous in Italy, but their use for ceremonial purposes came across the Mediterranean from the east. The home of the cypress is not in Italy, but in the Greek archipelago, northern Persia, Cilicia and Lebanon.—From Strasburger's "Riviera."

WILL POSTPONE INCORPORATION

Committee of Ten Hold Meeting and Make Several Recommendations.

At the meeting of the Committee of Ten on incorporation, held in the court room on Thursday evening, January 31st, there was a full attendance and a very thorough and earnest discussion of the leading issues involved.

As a result of the general debate it was decided by a unanimous vote that the committee shall recommend to the people of South San Francisco the indefinite postponement of incorporation.

A committee of five, consisting of Dr. H. G. Plymire, D. O. Daggett, M. F. Healy, Judge A. McSweeney and Harry E. Styles, was appointed to investigate the feasibility and advisability of forming a sanitary district to include the town of South San Francisco and adjacent lands.

A committee of three was also appointed consisting of Tom Hickey, Frank Knowles and E. W. Laugenbach to inquire into the proposition to have Grand avenue and Linden avenue declared established and improved as county roads.

Both committees were requested to report to the committee of ten on Thursday evening, February 14th, at the courtroom, to which latter time and place the committee adjourned.

Major Blakely, superintendent of the life saving station, has asked for a life saving station at Halfmoon Bay, and states that the rapidly increasing commerce of San Francisco makes such a station absolutely necessary. A Cause For Thanks.

Charles O'Connor once began an after dinner speech in Philadelphia in this way:

"I must confess that I dread to make after dinner speeches. At the most sumptuous dinners, even at such a dinner as this one, if I know that at the end I must make a speech I am nervous, I have no appetite, I find little to admire in the best efforts of the chef. In truth, gentlemen, I can readily imagine Daniel, if he was at all of my mind, heaving a sigh of relief as the lions drew near to devour him—heaving a sigh of relief and murmuring: "Well, if there's any after dinner speaking to be done on this occasion, at least it won't be done by me."

Gentle Door Taps.

A story of extraordinary deafness was unfolded at a recent meeting of a medical society in Philadelphia. An elderly woman, exceedingly hard of hearing, lived near the river. One afternoon a warship fired a salute of ten guns. The woman, alone in her little house, waited until the booming ceased. Then she smoothed her dress, brushed her hair back in a quaint manner and said sweetly, "Come in."—Argonaut.

The Letter I.

The name of "I" is in Hebrew jod or jot, a hand, and the earliest characters representative of the sound closely resemble a hand with but three fingers. Little by little one finger after another dropped off until only the little finger was left, and the letter became the smallest in the alphabet, a jot or tittle, that is, the "I" and its dot being synonymous of the most insignificant things that could be described.

A Joyous Moment.

"There is my last poem," said the young but melancholy contributor. "Thank the Lord!" replied the dignified editor as he clung to his chair that he might not dance a hornpipe.—Detroit Free Press.

The Great IMPERIAL ENCYCLOPEDIA and DICTIONARY is now Complete

TWENTY-EIGHT THOUSAND PAGES

SEVEN THOUSAND ILLUSTRATIONS

FORTY VOLUMES

EIGHT REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD OWN THIS WORK

FIRST—It is the most modern Encyclopedia in the English language.

SECOND—It is the only great Encyclopedia that is issued in handy volumes (5x8 inches, weighing 2 pounds each). There is no possible reason for publishing Encyclopedias in great bulky volumes, weighing from 6 to 8 pounds, as is the case with all the older Encyclopedias. This work is issued in the most convenient size, each volume being light enough to hold in the hand during consultation.

THIRD—It includes within its one alphabetical arrangement not only an exhaustive Encyclopedia of universal knowledge, but also an unabridged dictionary of the English language.

FOURTH—The introduction of derivation and pronunciation, neither of which has heretofore been given by any Encyclopedia. The value of this feature and the modern character of this work will be easily appreciated.

FIFTH—It covers a far greater range of topics than is covered by all other Encyclopedias, each topic being systematically subdivided, thus facilitating consultation, and an extended scheme of cross-references being added, assures the satisfactory development of such topics as may be sought.

SIXTH—This work is absolutely free from partisanship and sectarian bias.

SEVENTH—Following the dissertations of important topics are given extended bibliographies by which the reader may enlarge his course of reading if so inclined. The biographies of authors are given, also precise records of the work they have published.

EIGHTH—Aside from the 7000 line drawings, which are inserted as an aid to the text, there are scores of full-page portraits of the greatest men of history.

Former Prices Prohibitive

Heretofore the best Encyclopedias have been put on the market at abnormally high figures, ranging from $80 to $120—prices which only the very rich could afford to pay. In order to overcome this obstacle, the Pacific Newspaper Union has made arrangements with the publishers of the New Imperial Encyclopedia for an entire edition of that splendid work, which will be distributed to the public at about the actual cost of manufacture and on terms within the reach of every income.

Direct From Binder to You The Co-operative Plan

In entering upon this great educational enterprise, the Pacific Newspaper Union acts as a purchasing agent, representing both the publishers and the public. On account of our immense purchasing and distributing powers, we are able to guarantee the sale of a very large edition. The plan is to distribute it by means of a great Co-operative Club, which will entirely eliminate all middle profits. Complete sets are shipped direct from the binders to purchasers. As a result of this great saving, those who join the Club are able to secure this newest and best reference library at a price heretofore unheard of in the annals of publishing.

HOW TO GET A SET

It is impossible in this limited space to describe the plans and purposes of the Club and the plan of sale whereby members may have the complete Encyclopedia delivered to them at once, and pay for it at the rate of a few cents a day. If you are interested, write to-day for full particulars. Do not put it off until to-morrow; to-morrow may be too late. Only one edition has been contracted for, and when it has been distributed no more applications will be received. This Club was organized for your benefit. No one will be to blame but yourself if you do not get an Encyclopedia now while the opportunity is here. Tear off the coupon and mail it to us to-day. An opportunity like this may never occur again in your lifetime.

What It Means To You

The possession of this great Encyclopedia means a great deal to you and your family. It is the most important set of books you could possibly purchase, as it gives you complete and definite information on every subject—history, science, geography, politics, religion, commerce, philosophy, etc.—written in words that all can understand. Any one can get a liberal education out of a good Encyclopedia.

For the children it answers every question that comes into their inquiring minds; for older people, it serves as a complete home university, supplying the latest and most authoritative information on every subject.

Not Hard to Read

THE NEW IMPERIAL ENCYCLOPEDIA differs from other reference works previously published in that its articles are not technical, or hard to read, but are written in a simple, clear and interesting manner. The aim of the editors was to eliminate so far as possible, all minute details and weighty opinions, giving all the facts, but the facts only. The advantage of such a work is that it will be read and enjoyed by every member of the family.

To Manufacturers

The earthquake did but little damage to South San Francisco. The industries located here, the Western Meat Company, the Wool Pullery, the Butler Brick Company, the Pacific Jupiter Steel Company, the Steiger Pottery Works, the W. P. Fuller White Lead Works, and other enterprises, are all in full operation to-day. Not one of them having suffered any serious impairment by reason of the earthquake.

The South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company planned South San Francisco as a manufacturing suburb of San Francisco. With that object in view they originally purchased 3500 acres of land in San Mateo county on the bay front five miles south of the City of San Francisco, and have developed their property so that to-day they possess perfected nearly every feature desired by manufacturers.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO

Is a railroad terminal; it is on the main line of the Southern Pacific Railroad and accessible to all railroads; has deep water communication; owns and operates for its industries, a railroad connecting with the Southern Pacific and the water front; has electric street car service from factory to town and direct to San Francisco; has an Electric Light and Power Company; owns an independent water works, and has an abundance of fresh water for factory and house; has wharves and docks; a perfect sewerage system; a bank; a town hall; and a population of 3000 people; an extensive and fine residence district, where workmen may secure land at reasonable prices and on favorable terms, as homes for themselves and their families.

FACTORY SITES

Can be obtained from the South San Francisco Land and Improvement Company on most reasonable terms.

The American Smelting and Refining Company recently purchased from this Company 200 acres of land and are on the ground to-day arranging for the immediate construction of a plant costing upward of $5,000,000. This means a vast increase in population, and a great augmentation for the benefit of all industries of every detail pertaining to rail and water communication.
